I'm writing to express my keen interest in the Senior Golang Developer position. As a backend-focused developer with a solid foundation in Golang and Java, I'm drawn to your emphasis on building scalable, cloud-native systems. My experience aligns well with the core skills you're seeking, and I'm eager to contribute to a pure development role.

My resume highlights practical application of these skills. I developed a payment gateway microservice using Go, Fiber, and PostgreSQL, successfully handling over 5,000 simulated monthly transactions with Redis caching for efficiency. Additionally, I built a fast and scalable RESTful API in Go for student data management, demonstrating proficiency in modern Go practices like `http.ServeMux`.

I am confident my problem-solving abilities, evident in solving over 700 DSA problems, combined with my hands-on experience in Docker and Kubernetes, make me a strong candidate to join your team and contribute to impactful projects.

Sincerely,
Srajal Nikhra
